

You've Been Breached: A Cyber War Game and Symposium

Booz Allen Hamilton, Old Dominion University, and the Hampton Roads Innovation Collaborative are pleased to announce "You've Been Breached!: A Cyber War Game and Symposium" War Game that will take place at the Ted Constant Convention Center on Thursday, April 7th from 11am – 6pm.

Breached! An exercise designed to examine the processes, procedures, tools, and organizational relationships in response to a realistic simulated cyber-attack. This exercise is by invitation-only and will include participation from senior executives, VIPs and influential Department of Defense leaders.

You do not need to have a technical background to participate. This exercise is an interactive learning experience that fosters observation, sharing of best practices and gaining insights from real-world incidents.

A panel of industry experts will share the views on the matter of Cyber Security as it pertains to their organizations.
