

We Enable Communities That Matter

Mobile-Collaborative City Sites

Working with partners ranging from large broadcasters like Raycom Media, to municipalities like the City of Norfolk, to organizations like businesses, churches and university clubs, Concursive is connecting towns and cities to advance "Things that Matter." Like making neighborhoods safer, forming support groups to move at-risk citizens in the event of a disaster, and collecting food for the hungry. See what one TV station is doing and contact us if you want to do the same.
