"Embracing Your Inner Startup Mentality" Special Guest Speaker - Rohana Meade

An entrepreneurial spirit will always serve those who embrace it, whether they founded a company or are an employee at a large corporation. It's easy to fall into old patterns of accepting the standard, not questioning how things can be done better, or simply being scared to learn something new. In this new digital world, you can't afford to be content with status quo.

Rohana Meade is the President, CEO and founding partner of Synergy Technical and has gained a solid reputation among teams, colleagues, board members, and customers as an executive with a rare balance of strategic insight, operational expertise, technical skills, financial skills, international experience, and sales and marketing savvy.

Rohana is a widely sought speaker and consultant in the discipline of applying Information Technology to business needs and has presented at worldwide conferences for several large Fortune 100 companies including Oracle and Microsoft.
